“ Hello, I am Asha Ekka, and I'd like to share my journey of determination and dreams.

I come from a family of six in Odisha, where my father is a hardworking farmer, and my mother is a dedicated homemaker. I graduated with a BA degree from Sambalpur University, I have seen my family's struggle and financial problems. So, I couldn't continue my Master's degree. Then I started preparing for competitive exams and I had cleared prelims as well as mains but couldn't clear the physical test. I had lost all my hopes.

My life took a turn when I learned about a scholarship at FUEL Business School. With hope in my heart, I applied, underwent tests and interviews, and was fortunate to be selected for a PGDM course.

This opportunity isn't just for me; it's for my family and my community. My dream is to excel in my studies, work in top multinational companies, and uplift my family from financial challenges.

My journey shows that dreams can be achieved regardless of your background. I hope it inspires others to persevere and chase their dreams relentlessly.

Thank you to FUEL Business School and everyone who supported me on this incredible journey.

With determination,

“ I am Akshada Dilip Pote, residing in Ghorpade Peth, Pune. I hold a Bachelor of Biotechnology degree from Pune University. I come from a small nuclear family, consisting of three members. My mother works as a peon at a school.

During my undergraduate years, I juggled my studies with a part-time job to support my family. At that point, I had almost given up hope of pursuing further education.

However, a ray of hope shone through when I discovered the scholarship offered by the Dagdushet Ganpati Trust. I decided to apply, and after a demanding selection process, I was fortunate to be chosen.

I am immensely grateful to FUEL Business School and the generous donor who transformed my life. With this scholarship, I now have the opportunity to complete my post-graduate education. I aspire to become a self-sufficient young woman and continue to provide for my family.

“ I am Arusha Karanjekar, hailing from Ratnagiri Chiplun. In my family, my mother takes on the role of a homemaker, while my father is employed in the private sector. I hold a bachelor's degree in commerce from Savitribai Phule Pune University.

After completing my undergraduate degree, I faced financial constraints and had to take a year off and was unsure of how to proceed ahead in my life. It was during this time that I received a recommendation for FUEL Business School from the Dagdusheth Halwai Trust. Encouraged by this opportunity, I promptly applied for their entrance exam and interview.

I was overjoyed when I received the acceptance letter from FUEL Business School, as it marked the beginning of my post-graduate journey. I consider myself incredibly fortunate to have been able to study at FUEL Business School.

My ultimate goal is to establish my own company and utilize the knowledge and skills I acquire at FUEL Business School to foster its growth.

“ I am Bhakti Sontakke, originally from Parbhani. I hold a Bachelor of Agriculture (Honors) degree from Parbhani University. In my family, my father works as a farmer, and my mother is a homemaker. After completing my Bachelor's degree, I gained valuable experience by working as an agriculture counselor in an Agriculture Company for a year.

My aspiration to attend college had always burned within me, but our financial situation posed a significant obstacle. However, my fortunes changed when I learned about the scholarship offered by the DagduSheth Trust. I decided to take the entrance exam and was fortunate enough to be selected. Now, I am enrolled in a PGDM program at FUEL Business School, which is not only aiding in my overall development but also equipping me with new soft and technical skills.

With unwavering dedication, hard work, and the support of FUEL Business School, I am confident that I will excel in my future career.

“ I am Tejashri Jagdish Sapkal, originally from Indapur. Allow me to share a glimpse of my family's background. Our family is composed of seven members, with my father being a hard-working farmer, and I too have inherited a passion for farming. My mother takes care of our home and family. I completed my bachelor's degree at Baramati University.

Following my graduation, I had to take a one-year hiatus due to financial constraints. It was during this time that one of my professors introduced me to the CSR Scholarship opportunity. I decided to take the aptitude exam and attend an interview, and the moment I received news of being awarded the scholarship, I was overwhelmed with joy.

I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to FBS for providing me with this incredible opportunity. It's something I will cherish for the rest of my life.

“ My name is Kalyani Marathe, and my success story begins in a rural background where a full scholarship changed the course of my life. I come from a humble background, hailing from a tiny rural village where educational opportunities are often limited, and the dreams of a better future can sometimes feel as distant as the stars in the night sky. My life took a significant turn when I lost my father not long ago, leaving my mother as the dedicated homemaker in our family. His passing not only left a void in our lives but also created financial constraints that made it even more challenging for me to pursue further education.

As I grew older, I faced various obstacles in continuing my education. Resources were scarce, and I often wondered if my aspirations for higher studies would remain as mere dreams. However, a glimmer of hope entered my life when a friend told me about FUEL Business School. I wasted no time and applied immediately. After undergoing a rigorous selection process, I was fortunate enough to be admitted to the Fuel School of Business. This was a life-changing moment for me.

I am determined to become a role model for other young girls and boys in rural areas, showing them that with hard work, dedication, and the right support, they too can achieve their goals. I want to be living proof that dreams can become a reality, no matter where you come from.

“ I am Vaishnavi Yadav, originally from Sangli Kirloskarvadi. My educational journey began at Kirloskar High School and Jr. College, where I completed my 12th-grade with a science diploma. Currently, I am pursuing a BBA in Computer Applications. I hail from a large family of 13 members, where my mother is a homemaker and my father, a news reporter, has faced health challenges since the lockdown, which has put a strain on our finances. It left me feeling bewildered, disoriented, and uncertain about my next steps.

During this uncertain period, I continued to explore online options for courses and universities, and that's when I came across FUEL Business School and their FUEL scholarship program. I took their entrance exam, successfully navigated the interview, and today, I am immensely grateful to be a part of this institution.

I consider myself truly fortunate to be here because this institute is not only vast in its offerings but also provides exceptional care and support to its students, enabling us to chase our dreams. I firmly believe that this institute will help me expand my knowledge and skills, paving the way for me to progress in my career.

I am deeply thankful to everyone at this institute for giving me wings, and I am committed to doing everything within my power to soar high.
